

NEW FROM

EXTENDED WARRANTY ON ALL CRAIG & DERRICOTT ATS EQUIPMENT

Craig & Derricott are now offering the option for a commissioning service on all of their Automatic Transfer Switches (ATS). This will provide a level of testing that will allow you to feel confident that each C&D ATS unit is working and capable of maintaining a fully operational state during its working life.

A commissioning service from Craig & Derricott will include:

- General visual examination of ATS exterior
- Check the condition of the enclosure and all moving parts in the mechanism
- Insulation Resistance Test (if equipment is isolated from supplies/not connected)
- Continuity Test
- Manual Changeover Test
- Automatic Changeover Test

All ATS equipment tested and registered with C&D will qualify for a 2 year extended warranty offer on the units. The 2-year warranty will commence from the date of commissioning if this date is within 12 months of the date of despatch. To start the commissioning process please contact us today.
